Dear Collector,

Welcome to this selection of some 100 models, of which more than 40 are brand new releases, now offered direct to collectors for the first time.

Having 'put our toe in the water' by introducing a number of models from the Vanguard and Trackside ranges, I am pleased to say that these have been warmly welcomed by collectors, and so in this catalogue I have expanded the number of models accordingly.

I am also pleased to include further models marking the 50th Anniversary of the Corgi brand name, which first appeared in 1956. From the Original Omnibus Company comes a set of three 1:76 scale buses, each representing one of Corgi's three locations over 50 years – first Northampton, then Wales, and finally Leicester, where we are today.

There are also three exceptional models issued specially for this occasion, including two classic fighter aircraft of World War II, each available to a maximum production run of just 2,006 pieces.

I think you will agree that this all adds up to one of the most comprehensive and collectable selections we have been able to offer for some time, and we look forward to receiving your order soon.

Regards,

Claire Winter
Direct Marketing Manager

Bristol Lodekka FS5G – Lincolnshire Road Car ↻

Voted by collectors the most desirable OO model to be included in Corgi's special 50th Anniversary series, the Bristol Lodekka replicates a retired and meticulously restored original in the Lincolnshire Road Car livery. The model comes with a wood effect plinth, Corgi Anniversary booklet and numbered Limited Edition Certificate.

Scale 1:76 Approx. length 108mm

NEW LIMITED EDITION
2,006 models

Marking the 50th Anniversary of the Corgi name (1956 – 2006), we are delighted to announce a range of special Anniversary Editions. Each commemorates a milestone model in the history of Corgi, from the very first 1956 model (Ford Consul) to replicas of iconic British marques such as the E-Type Jaguar. All models are issued as Limited Editions, and come with a Corgi Anniversary Booklet, and a special memento appropriate to each vehicle.

Ford Consul – Brown ↻

The 200 Ford Consul was the very first true Corgi model, built to 1:46 scale, and available in brown, green, cream and grey. Our model featured here is a replica made exactly as the 1956 original: metal chassis, turned wheels and, of course, windows!

Ref: AN01101 £29.99 Scale 1:46 Approx. length 91mm

Messerschmitt BF109E - Gruppenkommandeur Hauptmann Hans von Hahn

The immortal fighter aircraft of the Luftwaffe is re-created here to exact 1:72 scale, complete with the striking nose 'war paint' of 'Vati' von Hahn, one of Germany's greatest, and most honourable, 'Knights of the Air'. Our Corgi 50th Anniversary model comes complete with the figure of von Hahn, who ended the war with 34 'kills', display plinth and pilot's notes for the Messerschmitt.

"Wait until you see the whites of their eyes."

That was the first of the South African 'Sailor' Malan's 'Ten Commandments' of aerial fighting issued to his squadron, later circulated more widely within the wartime RAF. Having won a DFC as early as 11th June 1940 for his outstanding actions over Dunkirk, with some seven 'kills' and at least four more enemy aircraft damaged, he flew the first sortie of the Battle of Britain, sharing the destruction of a He111 on July 12th.

Supermarine Spitfire MkI - Flt Lt Adolf 'Sailor' Malan

One of the first South Africans to fly with the RAF, 'Sailor' Malan flew in the very first action of the Battle of Britain on the 10th July 1940 in the original of this replica. Reproducing one of the original four 1:72 scale models in the Aviation Archive, this Corgi 50th Anniversary Spitfire MkI comes with a special display plinth, pilot figure and reproduction pilot's notes for the Spitfire. Issued in an edition of just 2,006 pieces.

ANNIVERSARY

Collectables | Vanguard's

2006 marks the 10th Anniversary of Vanguard's, the 1:43 scale range replicating classic British saloons and sports cars (and more recently, light commercials) from the immediate post World War Two period right up to the present. The selection featured here and in the following pages includes no fewer than eleven brand new releases, notably the spectacular Limited Edition Sierra Sapphire Cosworth.

LIMITED EDITION

Mini Van - Enfield Brake & Clutch Service ↻

This 1:43 scale Limited Edition faithfully reproduces Alec Issigonis's masterpiece in its commercial guise, and features photo-etched chrome detail and wing mirrors, detailed interior, working suspension and detailed wheels, hubs and tyres.

Ref: VA01421 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 71mm

Austin Healey 100-Six - Old English White ↻

First shown by Donald Healey as the prototype 'Healey 100' at the 1952 Earl's Court Motor Show, it went on to become a new marque that would sell worldwide. This replica matches the Old English White paintwork, as well as accurately observed chrome trim.

Ref: VA05105 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 92mm

LIMITED EDITION

Morris Minor Van - Bus Interest Group ↻

This interesting little model features the unusual livery of the Aldershot & District Bus Interest Group. Other features include chromed wing mirrors and fine detail photo-etched wipers, jewelled headlights and working suspension, as well as detailed wheels, hubs and tyres.

Ref: VA01121 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 82mm

MG ZT - Trophy Yellow ↻

The 190 bhp V6MG ZT is based on a machine from MG Rover, in this case the Rover 75. But in every detail of this Limited Edition, from that aggressive mesh grille through the stylish interior and down to the alloy wheels, the ZT is a quite different beast from its parent.

Rover 75 - Black Pearl ↻

Though the Rover 75 was launched in 1999, this replica reflects the styling revisions introduced in 2004. The model conforms to the Vanguard's 8-Point Specification Plan, which includes working suspension, accurate body shape and precisely matched colours, detailed wheels, hubs and tyres, photo-etched chrome detail and jewelled headlights.

Ref: VA09202 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 110mm

LIMITED EDITION

Rover 3 Litre Mk II (P5) - Pine Green ↻

Described as the 'understated car for bank managers or politicians who could either not afford, or did not want, a Rolls-Royce', the 3-litre Rover is reproduced here to 1:43 scale, with opulent interior, fine detail chrome trim and jewelled headlights.

Ref: VA06908 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 108mm

Collectables | Vanguard's

Vauxhall Cavalier CD MkII - Champagne Platinum

The original of our 1:43 scale Limited Edition was a late CD, the most luxurious car in Vauxhall's range, which sold more than 800,000 in the UK market during the 1980s. Produced from new tooling, the model features detailed interior, wheels, hubs and tyres, working suspension and photo-etched chrome parts.

Ref: VA09801 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 100mm

LIMITED EDITION

Vauxhall Cresta - Access Taxis

Contrasted with the aerodynamic lines of cars designed for the aspirations of 21st Century motorists, this Cresta seems a bit of an old warhorse. Yet it too is a classic, faithfully replicated here in every detail of the original.

Ref: VA06409 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 105mm

Triumph Herald Convertible - Royal Blue

No Triumph model went through as many reincarnations as the Herald (no less than 11). This 1:43 scale replica, with its distinctive chrome 'frown' over the jewelled headlights and precisely matched Royal Blue paintwork, harks back over 30 years, but is worthy of the original.

Ref: VA07403 £11.99 Scale 1:43 Approx. length 102mm

LIMITED EDITION

Triumph Dolomite Sprint - Magenta

The Dolomite Sprint was launched in 1973, the first volume production car in the world to be produced with a 16 valve 4 cylinder engine. It excelled in Group One rallying, rivalling Ford's RS2000. Features of this replica include detailed interior, chrome trim, working suspension and jewelled headlights.

Vanguards: celebrating the first 10 years

The first Vanguards appeared in 1996, highly detailed, authentic die-cast models of classic vehicles from the 1950s and 1960s. The most successful models turned out to be the saloon and sports cars, which in turn seemed to gravitate naturally towards icons of British saloon and sports car marques. And what more 'iconic icon' to celebrate 10 years of Vanguards than the Sierra Sapphire Cosworth?

50 years of Corgi & 50 years of double-deckers

Marking the 50th Anniversary of Corgi, what series of models in our many ranges somehow mirrors that period? Possibly the most collectable of all Corgi themes, the 1:76 scale Original Omnibus range of buses and coaches, both historical and modern, seemed particularly apt. The range is well-represented by models launched throughout the past 50 years, from the Daimlers and Bristol Lodekkas of the 1950s right up to the gleaming newcomers of the new Century.

Britain's favourite van since 1965!

When it was launched in 1965, the rather spartan Ford Transit was powered by a 73 bhp 1.7_ petrol engine or a Perkins 4/99 diesel developing a modest 43 bhp. Forty years on, it features an interior and driver comfort comparable with those of a saloon, and is available in SWB, MWB and LWB, as well as the 'Jumbo' version, with the option of three roof heights, front or rear wheel drive, and automatic transmission.

The Aviation Archive traces the history of powered flight from its inception in December 1903 right up to the present day. Models feature both military and civil aircraft, each accurately scaled, meticulously researched, and authentic in every detail. Themes range from World War II Legends, aircraft identified with specific fighter aces, to Aerobatic Display Teams, from Pioneers of Aviation to Modern Fighter Legends.

BAE Hawk T.1A - Red Arrows Aerobatic Team, RAF ↻

The RAF Aerobatic Team, better known as the Red Arrows, converted (from the Gnat) to the Hawk in 1980, which they display to this day. Our model, produced from new tooling for 2006, replicates XX294, based at Scampton, Lincs., and is shown in her very latest paintwork and markings (2005).

Canadair CL-13A Sabre MkV - Golden Hawks, Royal Canadian Air Force ↻

Canada's equivalent of our own Red Arrows, the Golden Hawks used the Sabre for its aerobatic agility, born of its original superior target technology and its role as a supersonic intercept aircraft. Our 1:72 scale Limited Edition reproduces the exact shade of metallic gold paintwork of the original and authentic 1959 badging.

Ref: AA35806 £29.99 Scale 1:72 Wingspan 157mm

Spitfire MkVc - 5th FS/52nd FG USAAF, Western Desert, 1943 ↻

This model is quite unusual in that it reproduces a Spitfire in the colours of a USAAF Fighter Squadron. Its pilots would have been more accustomed to the P-40s and P-39s in which they received their training in 1941 and early 1942, and which converted to P-51s in April 1944.

↻ Sepecat Jaguar T.2 - 41 Squadron RAF, RAF Coltishall 1977

The original two-seater training aircraft of our 1:72 scale replica was operated by 41 Squadron, and is painted in the authentic camouflage and markings of the 1977 aircraft. Features of this Limited Edition include under-wing armament detail, detailed cockpit and chromed rear exhaust vents.

Me 262A - 1a-White 3 - Adolf Galland ↻

Produced from new tooling, this 1:72 scale Me 262 is modelled on one of the last flown in World War Two in Europe, by arguably the greatest fighter ace on either side, Generalleutnant Adolf Galland. There is some dispute about the actual markings on the plane, but without photographic evidence we can never be quite sure.

Collectables | Batman | Star Trek

Batman was one of the very earliest Film & TV themes; the original Corgi Batmobile appeared in October 1966, and was only the fourth 'character' model produced by Corgi. Today, no fewer than 28 Batman-themed vehicles have appeared as Corgi models, from the 1930s right through to the present day.

Batman Silver Age II Set - 1950s

This Limited Edition consists of two 1:43 scale vehicles, a black 1950s Batmobile and a green and blue 1950s Jokermobile, together with Batman and Joker figures. This is a recent release in Corgi's range of 28 Batman vehicles, dating from the original 1930 Batmobile right through to the present day, with this set bringing the 1950s to life.

Klingon Bird of Prey - Star Trek 40th Anniversary

Of all the fearsome adversaries faced by Captain Kirk, Mr Spock and Co., none was quite so spooky as the Klingons. Our detailed die-cast model reproduces the Bird of Prey as featured in Star Trek III, The Search for Spock, and comes with its own Klingon emblem display stand.

Ref: CC96602 £12.99 Approx. length 107mm

NEW

Celebrating 40 years of Star Trek, an all-new range of replicas is beamed down to collectors. Each model is a detailed die-cast replica, issued under licence from Paramount Pictures. Each features 360° decoration, and comes in suitably 'futuristic' display packaging that looks as if it might have been designed by Mr Spock himself!

To boldly go where no man has gone before

Commemorate 40 years of the most enduring concept in the history of TV science fiction. The brainchild of Gene Roddenberry, initially it was no great success, but it had attracted a hard core of addicts who lobbied against its discontinuation. And they won - and how! Five TV series and 10 full length features later, the Starship Enterprise remains on course to make even more history.

We are delighted to introduce six brand new additions to the 1:76 scale Trackside range of vintage commercial vehicles. Each is precision die-cast, and accurately reproduces a classic of British truck history, from the Scammell Mechanical Horse of 1933, though the Leyland Octopus of 1947 to the ERF LV launched in 1962. Here is also a brand new casting of the Morris J2 Van.

Scammell Scarab Van Trailer - Eskimo Foods

With its tight turning circle and exceptional manoeuvrability, the Scarab (produced 1948 – 1968) was the ideal local 'shuttle' and delivery vehicle, and much favoured by the railways. Our model features a popular livery of the time.

Ref: DG148017 £9.99 Scale 1:76
Approx. length 110mm

ERF LV & Trailer with Sack Load - W.H. Malcolm

Launched in 1962, the glass fibre-cabbed ERF LV featured a large one-piece windscreen, replicated here in its authentic W.H. Malcolm livery. The de-coupling flatbed trailer comes complete with a sack load.

Ref: DG186012 £12.99 Scale 1:76
Approx. length 130mm

Foden S21 Low Loader/Load - G.C. Munton

Measuring 170mm in length, this Foden S21 coupled to a low loader is the largest Trackside model for some time. Details include full cab interior, decoupling loader and transformer load complete with chocks and 'tarpaulin'.

Ref: DG150011 £14.99 Scale 1:76 Approx. length 170mm

Scammell Mechanical Horse - British Road Services

Dating back to 1933, the Mechanical Horse was one of Scammell's most successful innovations. Our model is a curiosity in that it is liveried in the BRS colours, which date only from 1948, the year the Horse was replaced by the Scarab!

Ref: DG199007 £9.99 Scale 1:76 Approx. length 110mm

Noddy Van - London Brick

The so-called 'Noddy' van was the outcome of British Road Service's quest for the ideal parcels van, developed as the Austin VA. Our model reproduces the van in the contemporary livery from the 1960s.

Ref: DG174010 £5.99
Scale 1:76 Approx. length 90mm

Scammell Contractor - Sunters

One of the most famous names in super heavy haulage graces this mighty Contractor. While the original 6 x 4 boasted a gross train weight of up to 240 tons, a small number of MkII Contractors offered a gtw of up to 450 tons.

Ref: DG198006 £12.99 Scale 1:76 Approx. length 120mm

Scammell Contractor - Austen Brothers

Specialists in super heavy-haulage tractors, Scammell introduced the mighty Contractor in 1966. It was a popular tractor for travelling circuses with their often abnormal loads, here shown in the livery of Austen Brothers Circus.

Ref: DG198005 £12.99 Scale 1:76 Approx. length 120mm

Scammell Handyman, Trailer & Steel Load - Siddle Cook

Another classic from the Scammell stable. Details include a detailed cab interior, accurately matched paint colours and Siddle Cook badging, articulated trailer and separately cold-cast load of steel lengths.

Collectables | WWII Military

From the beachheads of Normandy to Berlin, the last year of the War in Europe witnessed the biggest land battles of World War Two in the west. Key to those battles were the armoured divisions, represented here by this selection. From the Sherman M4A3, Panther and Tiger battle tanks to the half track, each reproduces an actual vehicle serving on the Western Front, each meticulously researched and engineered.

Tiger Tank - SS Panzer, Normandy June 1944 ↻

Facing the overwhelming might of Operation Overlord, the Wehrmacht were aghast at the series of strategic blunders by their High Command which left them so out of position. Fortunately, their weaponry was second to none, including the fearsome Tiger. This 1:50 scale model reproduces the Tiger commanded by SS-Hauptscharführer (MSgt) Will Frey, 3.Zug, 1.Kompanie, schwere SS Panzer Abteilung 102.

M4A3 Sherman Tank - US Army, Omaha Beach, Normandy, June 1944 ↻

This 1:50 scale model reproduces a Sherman serving on D-Day with A Company, 341st Tank Battalion, US Army, coming ashore at Omaha Beach. Features include the specially fitted deep water wading exhausts, weathered effect, rotating gun turret, elevating gun, working tracks and authentic markings.

NEW

M3 Half-Track - US Army, Germany 1945 ↻

Serving with the 60th Armored Infantry Battalion, 9th Armored Division of the US Army, this half-track saw service in the latter days of World War Two. Features include the authentic markings, and the all-important digging implements essential when the vehicle became bogged down in the post-winter thaw.

Ref: CC60410 £19.99 Scale 1:50 Approx. length 120mm

PzKpfw V Panther Ausf.G - German Army, Germany 1945 ↻

By the time of the final German resistance to the orchestrated invasion on both Eastern and Western fronts, the Mk V Panther was a scarce survivor of the once mighty Panzer divisions. Our replica shows authentic late and rather hasty over-painting in white of the basic camouflage to markings which helped obscure the tank from spotting by enemy aircraft in the winter landscape.

Ref: CC60210 £19.99 Scale 1:50 Approx. length 130mm

Churchill MkIII Tank - British Army, Sword Beach ↻

Landing at Sword Beach, 141 Regiment formed part of the British/Canadian forces, and was equipped with Churchill MkIII Tanks. Details include rotating turret and elevating gun, secondary armament, full working tracks and battle scarring for an even more realistic effect.

Ref: CC60107 £19.99 Scale 1:50 Approx. length 150mm

M4A3 Sherman Tank - US Army, Germany 1945 ↻

Based on an original Sherman serving with 761st Tank Battalion, Task Force Rhine, in the final thrust into the German heartland, this replica features a rotating gun turret, elevating gun, working tracks and accurate badging.
